

Homework Submission Instructions

- Homework submission is done by sending, in attachment, all the relevant files to the grader: winebra@post.tau.ac.il
- The subject should be “compphys ex” followed by the homework number with no spaces. For example: compphys ex1 for the first homework, compphys ex2 for the 2nd homework and so on.
- In the body of the message you should write your full name and ID number.
- If your homework was received properly you will be sent an automatic e-mail, from the grader, in the form:
Subject: Exercise submission notification
Message body: Your exercise for course ”Computers for Physicists” was received and will be checked soon.
Please keep those e-mails. Note that if you haven’t received this e-mail after 24 hours from submitting your homework there was probably something wrong with your submission and your homework was not received by the grader.
- Unless otherwise stated, homework should be submitted within a week, until the recitation of the following week.
- Reminder: Your homework C programs are required to compile and run properly on the university computers, meaning, under the Unix operating system.

Good luck
